James F. Watson appeared on a literary program devoted to Sidney Lanier as a poet, critic and musician, which was presented at the School of Expression, Boston, on Saturday, April 17. Mr. Watson presented Lanier's "Ballad of the Trees and the Master" with a forcefulness and appreciation which won sincere commendation from the large audience present. This was the first of a series of recitals which will close the school season, and in which only the more proficient students take part.

Mr. D. M. Dew, of Latta, representing Maybank & Co., the well-known exporters, has recently bought about 800 bales of cotton on the Dillon market. Mr. Dew has had a good limit for the past several weeks and has been buying a lot of cotton in the different towns in the Pee Dee section. He is now making preparations to put a representative on the Dillon market for the coming season and if his plans materialize Dillon will be fortunate in having a representative of these well-known exporters on its local market.

A Delightful Occasion.
One of the most delightful affairs in the social history of Dillon was the Furman alumni banquet given at the Price Court Inn Friday evening in honor of the Furman Glee Club. The handsome banquet hall never looked prettier than on this occasion. Blending in exquisite harmony with the Furman colors of purple and white were ferns and palms which lent a brilliance and charm to the surroundings never equalled before at the many banquets held in this spacious hall. The pleasure of the evening was greatly augmented by the presence of many distinguished alumni from different sections of the Pee Dee.

Dr. E. V. Baldy, president of Coker College, acted as toastmaster, and each speaker was presented with some happy remark appropriate to the subject to be discussed.

The following toasts were responded to: Address of welcome, Hon. A. B. Jordan: "Furman University," Dr. Edwin Poteat: "The Denominational College. Its Advantage," Hon. C. A. Smith: "The Organization of our Alumni," Rev. C. A. Jones: "Furman on the Up-grade," Rev. Joel I. Allen: "Furman University: How to build It Up," Rev. W. C. Allen.

The out-of-town guests were: Dr. E. M. Poteat, Furman University; Dr. E. V. Baldy, Coker College; Hon. C. A. Smith, Timmonsville; Rev. C. A. Jones, Bennettsville; Rev. W. C. Allen, Prof. T. S. Bannister and Mr. Johnson Brown, Latta; Dr. B. Rutledge, Florence; Mr. John J. Allen, Mallory; and Prof. W. E. King, Greeleyville.

When the regular order of toasts had been concluded Prof. W. W. Nickels was called upon for an extemporaneous talk which he delivered in a charming and delightful manner.

The Glee Club was entertained in private homes, and the boys have made so many friends in town that Dillon wishes them to remember her when the future annual tour of the Club is being planned.

NOTICE TO ROAD OVERSEERS.

All overseers of the public roads in the County, whether newly appointed or holding over under former warrants, are directed and urged to give immediate attention to their respective sections, with especial reference to such portions of the highway as have been plowed into by cultivators of adjacent lands. The practice of plowing into and trespassing upon the public roads in many quarters has grown into an evil and a nuisance that must at once be abated.

Persons liable to road duty, who have not paid the commutation tax, must be required forthwith to perform enough labor to put their sections of roads in good condition. The prompt and vigorous attention of the overseers is urgently requested.

Do You Call This a Square Deal?

When the South-Atlantic Life Insurance Company of Richmond, Va., began to solicit business in Marion County, it announced the policy of investing, on satisfactory real estate security, all its net premiums received from that community.

We understand they have loaned their policy-holders in Marion County nearly $3 for every $1 received in premiums, to say nothing of the death claims, taxes and operating expenses paid. This looks to us like keeping the money at home. Other Life Insurance Companies are beginning to follow their example; why? Because they found they had to do it to get some of the business.
